

Heart Touching Appreciation Messages

All that I am,
or hope to be,
I owe to my angel mother.

—Abraham Lincoln

There can be no better influence on a child than the influence of a loving mother; at least that was my own personal experience.

One of the many ways my mother influenced me positively was when she taught me how to cook. I used to only enjoy ordering food through delivery until she taught me the value of a home cooked meal.

Another way my mother deeply influenced me was when she encouraged me to embrace my artistic side and helped me fall in love with painting. It was an activity we both loved and shared together.

To conclude, the most influential person in my life was my mother who allowed me to find beauty in everything.

Mother's love cannot be measured, it's a brilliant gem to be treasured. My mother is my hero. The sacrifices she makes to bring smiles to our family are incomparable. She has always been my inspiration and my greatest mentor. She loves me more than herself. The way she influences and motivates me in different stages in my life to become a good human is exemplary. My mother is the most influential person in my life. The word mother has layers of meaning. I am greatly influenced by her to attain excellence and achieve success. My mother means the world to me.

Life doesn't come with a manual. It comes with a mother." To begin with, my mom is the most important person in my life and has taught me a lot of things throughout my life. She has been a perfect version of herself to show me the highs and lows of life, and to teach me everything I need to know before I grow up.

I can assure that she has been the most influential person in my life. I learned a lot from her. The influence of my mother is beyond price.

One day, my mom said to me when I was sad that day and I will never forget it:" Laugh ,Love, and Live it up . It really gave me another version of life and let me realize I should get up and start enjoying life the way it is.

In conclusion, my mom contributes a dreadful support to her children , and I would never leave her alone. She has been a perfect example to me so I can be the best of myself and enjoy my life to the fullest. Maybe I don't say that much but I really should:" Thank you and love you mum."

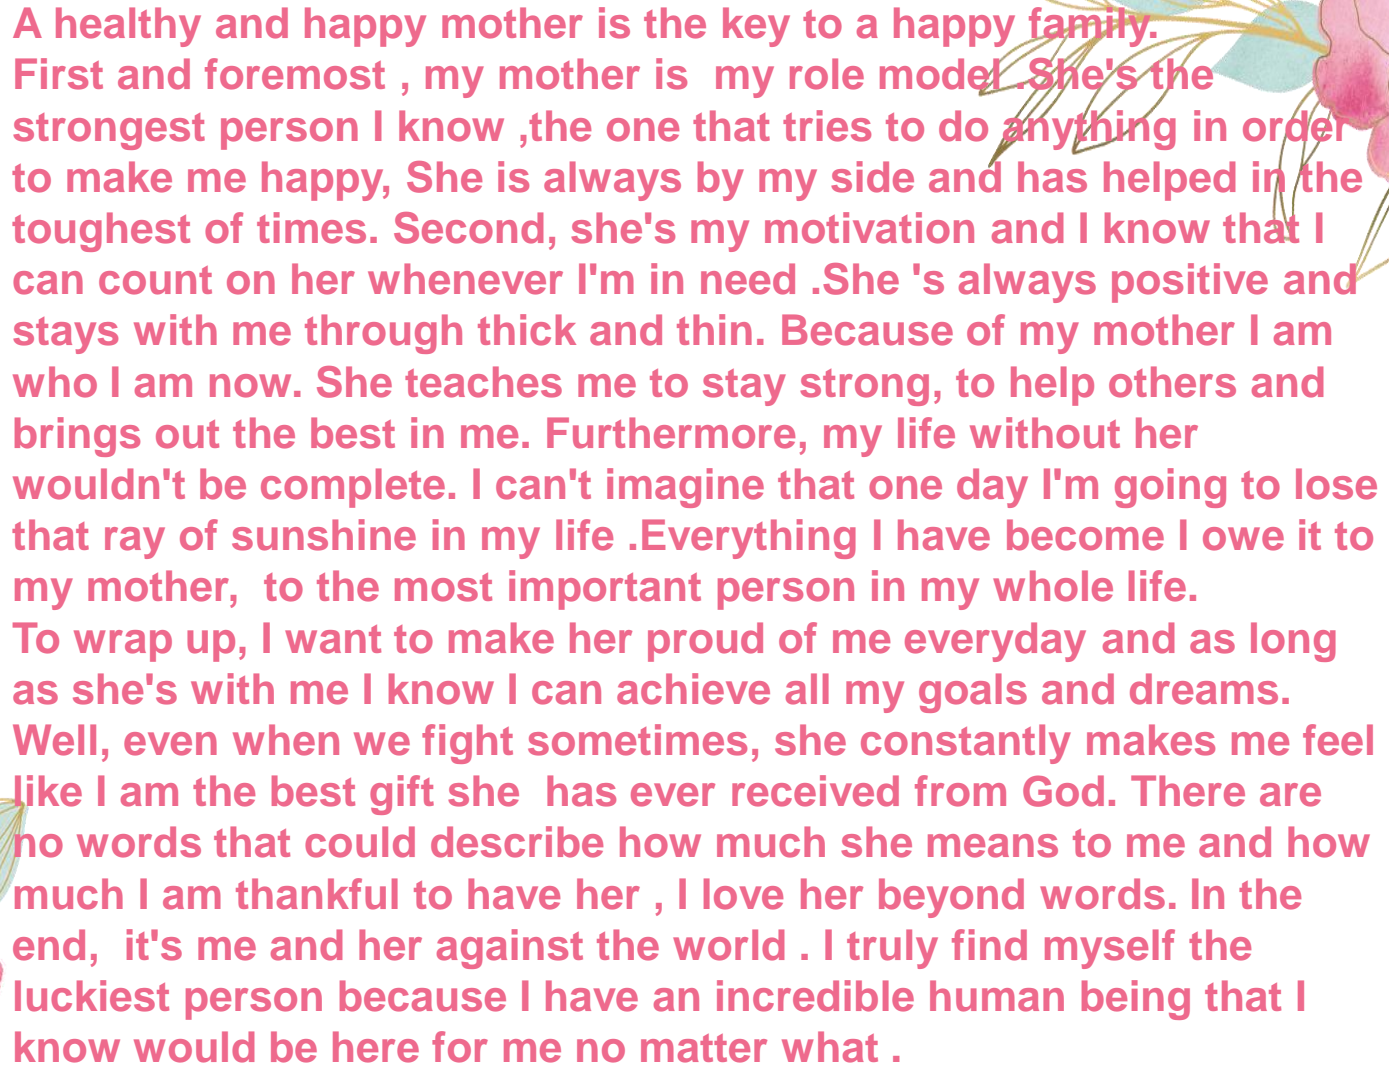

"Always my mother , forever my friend."

In life, people come and go, not everyone will stick by your side until the end except your mother. My mom is the most influential person in my life, and I aim to become like her one day. First of all, she's a very hard-working person. She always does her best for us not to need anything and be satisfied and happy. Furthermore, she is the strongest woman I've ever met. With all the pain she went through in her life, she still manages to make us think of every difficulty that comes our way as an obstacle which we have to surpass in order to live our lives happily and never regret anything. Finally, my mom is a very outgoing person who loves going on adventures and discovering new places, To wrap up, my mom is my idol and I wish to become like her one day. Thank you for your patience and compassion. I am a better woman because of you.

In life, you meet two types of people, ones who build you up, and ones who tear you down. But in the end, you will thank them both. Effectively, some people do have this special ability to inspire. They give us strength when things get tough or motivate us to do the things we're too afraid of doing. In other words, some people influence me by the way they're just living their life. When asked who was the most influential person in my life, I answer without any hesitation "my mother". As cliché as it may sound, my mom is the only person who always stood by my side when everything turned against me. She was here when I seemed like the most helpless person in the world. When I met the bottleneck in life, she, as the sun, was here to light up my life. At my best and my worst, she was here. She is always pushing me to accomplish my goals, to live life to its fullest and to not care about what others think about me. She has always told me that life is either a daring adventure or nothing at all. To sum up, my mother is more than a role model that provides inspiration ; her very existence is confirmation for me that I'm able to accomplish the impossible, seek the unknown and achieve greatness.

The most influential person in my life is my mom. She has been there for me since I was born. Throughout my life, my mom has always shown me how to embrace the present moment.

My mom is a very inspiring person. She works hard everyday from morning to evening to make ends meet. She helps me when I need her, and she is always a part of my life.

Moreover, my mom is a wonderful woman that always seeks a better future for her family, and she is a superwoman in all aspects of her life. She taught me to work hard and always be the best version of myself no matter the circumstances. I take after my mother. We both share a common love for football and comedy series.

All in all, my mom is an amazing person with a heart of gold. She is the woman I look up to .
